Letter from the President

By General Joe Martin

Dear Society Members,

I want to take a moment to share just how grateful I am for the opportunity to serve as President of our Society. Being part of this community has meant so much to me over the years and having the chance to help guide our organization is an honor. Thank you for your trust, encouragement, and continued support.

Your Society has and will continue to significantly impact the lives of Soldiers and the families of the Big Red One. By the end of the year, over 284 families will receive Commissary gift cards. We plan to expand our reach next year with a large donation to each of the Battalion Family Readiness Groups in the Division to help offset the cost of their family support activities. Based on recommendations from the Soldiers who attended this year's reunion, we are also exploring the feasibility of hosting a Veteran and Soldier social on Fort Riley. None of this would have been possible without your and the McCormick Foundation's generous contributions.

The reunion this year was a wonderful time, and I am grateful for everyone who attended. Your presence, energy, and enthusiasm made it a memorable gathering, and I appreciate each of you for helping make it such a meaningful event.

I'm excited to let you know that the Reunion Committee, the Executive Director, and I are working on our 2026 Society Reunion. We've jumped right into planning, talking through ideas, and sketching out what we hope will be a memorable gathering in Springfield, Virginia. Our goal is to open registration early this year, not only to give everyone plenty of time to prepare but also to show that next year's reunion is well underway. We are putting special care into the schedule to make sure there is something for everyone—whether you're a regular attendee or returning after some time away.

As plans come together, you'll be hearing from us regularly. Because interest in this reunion is already high, I would like to encourage those who are planning to attend to register as early as possible once registration opens. Early sign-ups truly help us make solid arrangements, manage space, and ensure the best experience for all.

Thank you once again for your enthusiasm, involvement, and the spirit you bring to our Society. We are strong because of you, and I'm looking forward to the road ahead as we prepare for what I believe will be a very special 2026.

Duty First!

Letter from the Executive Director

By MSG (Ret) Joshua A. Sandlin

What a year it has been! The reunion held in Oak Brook, Illinois, was an unforgettable experience. I want to personally thank the Robert R. McCormick Foundation, Cantigny Park, and the First Division Museum for hosting and helping make this event truly special. It was wonderful to see everyone in attendance.

The Division proudly supported the reunion with over 70 active-duty Soldiers. These included members of the First Infantry Division Band, who put on a fantastic show at the Welcome Party, as well as the Commanding General's Mounted Color Guard, which performed horse demonstrations and served as the color guard for the Banquet. Additionally, 25 Soldiers from the BOSS (Better Opportunities for Single Soldiers) Program at Fort Riley participated. The Soldiers had an incredible time and deeply appreciated the opportunity to connect with veterans from the 1st Infantry Division, sharing stories, experiences, and camaraderie across generations.

I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to LTG (Ret) Ron Watts for his dedicated service and commitment as President of the Society of the First Infantry Division over the past 10 years. Sir, you will be greatly missed, and we are deeply grateful for all you have done to advance the Society and strengthen its mission. At the same time, I would like to warmly welcome GEN (Ret) Joe Martin. I am excited about what we can accomplish together as we propel the Society into its next chapter.

Thanks to the Robert R. McCormick Foundation and all of your generous contributions to the BRO Support Fund, I'm thrilled to announce that we've purchased 44 tickets for SGTs and below to attend the First Infantry Division Year of Victory Ball. Additionally, we were able to provide Commissary gift cards to support Soldiers and their families each month throughout this year.

We have also replenished our Quartermaster with new Quarter-Zip sweat-shirts, polo shirts, T-shirts, hats, flags, flasks, and much more. Pictures and item details are updated in this edition of the BHS. Please visit the Quartermaster link on our website at: <https://www.1stid.org/quartermaster> to see the latest inventory and place an order. If you have any questions or prefer to order by phone to ensure availability, feel free to call us at (785) 579-6761.

I'm thrilled to share that planning for the 2026 Reunion in Springfield, Virginia is going wonderfully! The Reunion Committee and our President have been crafting a menu of tours designed to offer something for everyone. Thanks to the generosity of the Robert R. McCormick Foundation, which will be hosting the Welcome Party at Mount Vernon, this event promises to be truly unforgettable. Registration is planned to open in early 2026. Please share details about the reunion with fellow BRO Veterans who may not receive our emails and encourage them to visit our website for updates. I truly hope you can all join us from June 24–28, 2026, and I look forward to seeing each of you there!

I am truly blessed to serve as your Executive Director, and I'm grateful for all you do for the Society. I hope you enjoy the holiday season, and I look forward to connecting with more of you at next year's reunion.

MSG US Army Retired
Executive Director

Commanding General's Note

By MG Monté L. Rone

Friends of the 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley, Kansas!

This fall, the Big Red One executed Danger Gauntlet IV and Danger Gauntlet V to increase our warfighting readiness. During Danger Gauntlet IV, the entire division deployed to the field to execute an intensive training cycle, command post exercise (CPX), and fires support command exercise from September 7-17, 2025. From October 22nd to the 31st, we executed Danger Gauntlet V, a CPX with V Corps and US Army Europe and Africa. The Danger Gauntlet exercise series enables us to refine our warfighting systems and processes for Warfighter 26-03, but more importantly, prepares us for our upcoming deployment next summer.

This fall, the Brigades left nothing at rest, with training as the premium. The Devil Brigade continued its forward presence in Europe along NATO's Eastern Flank. The Dagger Brigade conducted company live fire exercises in November and a field training exercise in December to train and certify battalions in preparation for NTC 26-06. The Drumfire Brigade conducted advanced battery certifications and integrated fires with Demon Brigade in joint air-to-ground operations. The Demon Brigade executed three aerial gunneries and resumed Grey Eagle flight operations upon the Fighting Eagles' return from the Southern Border. The Durable Brigade focused on generating and sustaining combat power in direct support of the Division through Operation Freedom Reaper and pre-deployment operations. On December 4th, CSM Paul Gomez assumed responsibility from CSM Adam Bezanson during the 1st Division Sustainment Brigade Change of Responsibility.

This quarter marks a significant transition in our formation, as we undergo 43 Army structural changes through FY27. Our brigade engineer battalions will transform into engineer battalions, removing the signal and military intelligence companies and adding a third combat engineer company. Our military intelligence professionals are now consolidated at the Division headquarters, as part of the General Support Military Intelligence Company. On December 10th, the Division bid farewell to the 1st Squadron, 6th Cavalry Regiment during its inactivation ceremony. On December 16th, we welcomed the 5th Engineer Battalion, based in Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, to the Big Red One during a Patching Ceremony. Under LTC John Floyd and CSM Daron Martin, the "Fightin' Fifth" will move from Fort Leonard Wood to Fort Riley over the next year.

As we reflect on 2025, I ask you to remember the service and sacrifice of MSG (Retired) Charles Norman Shay, a 1st Infantry Division and D-Day veteran, Silver Star recipient, and former prisoner of war in World War II, who passed away on December 3rd at 101 years old. MSG Shay's service extended far beyond his time in the 16th Infantry Regiment at Omaha Beach, continuing through the Korean War and even into the era of nuclear testing at Castle Bravo. His courage and lifelong dedication to the Nation stands as a powerful reminder of the sacrifices made by our luminaries who have worn the Big Red One.

As we close out 2025, the Big Red One extends heartfelt wishes for a joyful holiday season to our Soldiers, Families, and community. May this time bring warmth, rest, and connection, but let us never lose sight of the mission ahead. As 2026 begins, we are fit, inspired, disciplined, and trained and ready, and we will leave nothing at rest.

A Memorable Year at the Victory Ball

The Victory Ball held at the Hilton Garden Inn on November 14th 2025 marked a truly special year for First Infantry Division, bringing together members, guests, and supporters for an evening of reflection, camaraderie, and celebration of service.

A highlight of the evening was the presence of Retired General Carter Ham as the guest speaker. General Ham, a lifetime member of the Society of the First Infantry Division, delivered an inspiring and thoughtful address that resonated deeply with all in attendance. His remarks reflected a profound respect for the Division's legacy, its Soldiers—past and present—and the enduring values that define the “Big Red One.”

The evening also featured a moment of special recognition when Mr. Timothy Knight, CEO of the Robert R. McCormick Foundation, was awarded the coveted Distinguished Trooper Award. This distinguished honor recognized Mr. Knight's unwavering support of the 1st Infantry Division and his continued commitment to preserving its history and honoring the service of its Soldiers. His contributions have strengthened the Society's mission and reinforced the importance of partnership in safeguarding the Division's proud legacy.

Held in the welcoming setting of the Hilton Garden Inn, the Victory Ball provided an opportunity for members to reconnect, honor shared traditions, and celebrate the heritage of the First Infantry Division. The event reflected unity, pride, and shared purpose that defines the Division and its supporters.

This Victory Ball will be remembered not only for its distinguished guest speaker and meaningful recognitions, but for the spirit of fellowship and respect that filled the room—an evening truly worthy of the legacy of the First Infantry Division.

104th Annual Reunion in Oak Brook, Illinois, June 18-22, 2025

The 104th Annual Reunion of the Society of the First Infantry Division was a tremendous success! With more than 300 attendees, the camaraderie and shared experiences truly shone throughout the weekend. The variety of events—sponsored by the Robert R. McCormick Foundation—offered something for everyone, including tours of the First Infantry Division Museum and the Gardens at Cantigny Park, demonstrations by the Commanding General's Mounted Color Guard, golf, a free concert, and a Chicago Cubs game.

It was wonderful to see spouses connecting and socializing, fostering new friendships that will hopefully continue into future gatherings. The welcome party, featuring live music from the First Infantry Division Rock Band, set a perfect tone for the weekend.

The McCormick Foundation also sponsored a BOSS (Better Opportunity for Single Soldiers) trip, bringing 35 single Soldiers from the First Infantry Division. This opportunity allowed them to participate in the reunion and, more importantly, to meet and engage with veterans from the Vietnam Conflict through the Global War on Terror—each sharing the proud legacy of the Big Red One.

The Conflict Breakfast, featuring General (Ret.) Joe Martin—who led at every level of leadership during combat with the First Infantry Division—served as a powerful reminder of our shared history. LTC John Brown delivered solemn remarks during the memorial ceremony, honoring those who made the ultimate sacrifice in service to the Division.

The banquet closed out the reunion with inspiring words from COL Travis Habhab, the 1st Infantry Division Chief of Staff, and recognition of the 28th Infantry Regiment for their outstanding attendance and creative theme—earning them the award for the second consecutive year.

New this year was the Lieutenant General Thomas G. Rhame Leadership Award, recognizing the First Infantry Division Company Commander of the Year, and the CSM Steve Faulkenburg Leadership Award, honoring the First Infantry Division First Sergeant of the Year. Congratulations to Captain Erika Burmahl from the 1st Engineer Battalion and First Sergeant Aaron Peoples for earning these distinguished honors. As always, the NCO and Soldier of the Year were also recognized—this year awarded to Sergeant Danner Renfro and Specialist Aldemir Parra.

As you prepare for the next reunion in Springfield, Virginia, I encourage you to invite a buddy to join us. I'm certain everyone is already looking forward to reconnecting and creating even more unforgettable memories!

Charles Norman Shay

Tribal Elder and World War II Hero, Dies at 101

In Memoriam

Charles Norman Shay

(June 27, 1924 – December 27, 2021)

Charles Norman Shay was a man of quiet strength, deep humility, and unwavering compassion. A proud citizen of the Penobscot Nation, Charles carried his heritage, his service, and his humanity with grace throughout his life.

As a young U.S. Army combat medic with the F Company, 16th Infantry Regiment, 1st Infantry Division during World War II, Charles landed on Omaha Beach at just 19 years old. In the midst of chaos and danger, he did what came naturally to him, he helped others. Again and again, under intense fire, he moved across the battlefield to care for wounded soldiers, never seeking recognition, only focused on saving lives.

For many years after the war, Charles rarely spoke of what he had seen or done. When he eventually chose to share his story, he did so not to relive the past, but to honor those who did not come home and to help others understand the true cost of war. His words were thoughtful, honest, and deeply moving—spoken always with respect and humility.

Beyond his military service, Charles was a devoted advocate for Native American veterans, working to ensure their sacrifices were acknowledged and remembered. Those who knew him remember a gentle man with a warm presence, a steady voice, and a sincere

Charles Norman Shay at Omaha Beach in Normandy, France, in 2019. "I saw there were many wounded men who were floundering in the water," he said, recalling D-Day. "And I knew that if nobody went to help them, they were doomed to die."

kindness that left a lasting impression.

Charles Norman Shay lived a life defined by service—to his country, his community, and to one another. His legacy lives on in the lives he saved, the stories he shared, and the hearts of all who had the privilege of knowing him.

He will be deeply missed and forever remembered.

The family traced its ancestry to a 17th-century French officer, Jean-Vincent d'Abbadie de Saint-Castin (for whom the town of Castine, Maine, is named), and one of his wives, a daughter of the Penobscot chief Madockawando.

Welcome to the Sea The First Division Heads to Vietnam, 1965

By Bradley Cesario, First Division Museum Research Historian

On May 22, 1965, First Division Headquarters Fort Riley released Movement Order No. 13. This was the official indication to all soldiers of the First Division that they would be headed to U.S. Army Pacific, overseas to America's growing conflict in Southeast Asia. Major General Jonathan O. Seaman, commanding general of the Division, had been informed in mid-April to begin preparing a brigade for Vietnam service. He chose the 2d Brigade, which was the best prepared for a quick deployment as the Division's designated Rapid Reaction Force, then further strengthened the 2d by bulking it up with weapons and vehicles from the Division's other two brigades. Movement Order No. 13 encompassed the complete 2d Brigade: 2d Battalion, 16th Infantry; 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry; 2d Battalion, 18th Infantry; 1st Battalion, 7th Artillery; elements of 8th Battalion, 6th Artillery; and additional support units. In early June of 1965 the

Men of the 2d Brigade line the decks of USNS General W.H. Gordon in Oakland, 25 June 1965. MRC 1996.96

2d Brigade departed Kansas and headed for the west coast and the Oakland Army Terminal. On June 25th, the nearly 4000 troops that made up the brigade crossed underneath the Golden Gate Bridge aboard the USNS General W.H. Gordon. Once at sea, brigade executive officer Lt. Col. Edgar Glotzbach officially made the shipboard announcement that the brigade already knew: their destination was South Vietnam.

The journey aboard the General Gordon would take about two weeks, and troops were prepared for boredom. The ship's crew produced The Gordonaire newsletter, which welcomed the First Division to the sea, provided tips on dealing with seasickness, and included a warning to conserve fresh water. Amenities were sparse – a Navy Exchange and a barber shop, although troops were also shown movies (alarmingly including King Kong vs. Godzilla). Other unofficial events included a celebration of crossing the International Date Line, which qualified brigade members for initiation into the Domain of the Golden Dragon.

Before the 2d Brigade even arrived in Vietnam, their destination had changed. A small advance party had preceded the General Gordon by air, and PFC Gerold Worster of the 7th Artillery became the first member of the Big Red One to arrive in Vietnam on June 23. But he had arrived at Qui Nhon, where the original plan was for the brigade to provide security for supply and logistics facilities under construction. While the General Gordon was still at sea, new orders arrived that split the brigade upon arrival. On July 12, 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry and one battery of 1st Battalion, 7th Artillery disembarked at Cam Ranh Bay to provide security for the port being constructed there. Two days later the rest of the brigade disembarked at Vung Tau Air Base and flew from there to Bien Hoa Air Base northeast of Saigon. By July 16th they had begun setting up a base camp near Bien Hoa.

Living in Vietnam was a new experience for most brigade soldiers. To aid in acculturation, the Army provided handouts and informational cards with refreshers on combat fundamentals and reminders for all personnel about the rules of engagement in Vietnam. Local South Vietnamese authorities produced a welcome guide to Bien Hoa, including an overview of regional customs and a list of provincial officials. Some troops even took additional lessons in the Vietnamese language.

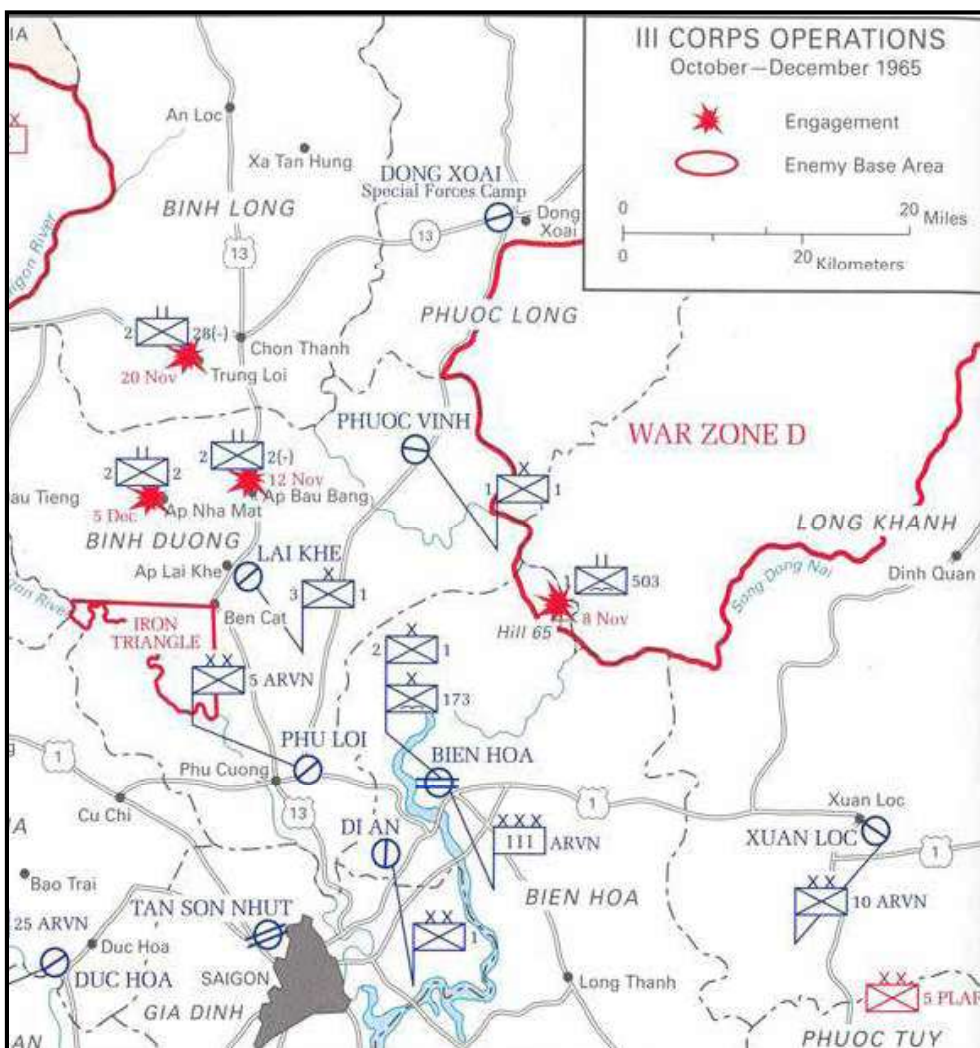

It took less than 24 hours from arrival at Bien Hoa before 2d Battalion, 18th Infantry came under enemy fire, and the First Division was in combat for the first time in twenty years. 2/18 suffered the Division's first casualty of Vietnam a day later. Besides the persistent Viet Cong probing attacks, the logistical situation at Bien Hoa was grim. The recent change of orders meant most of the brigade's pre-placed food and ammunition was hundreds of miles away at Qui Nhon. For the rest of July, Big

All initial bases for the First Division in Vietnam are visible on this map. John M. Carland, The United States Army in Vietnam: Stemming the Tide, May 1965 to October 1966 (Washington, DC: Center of Military History, 2000), p.74.

Red One soldiers ate Navy food and fired South Vietnamese artillery rounds. But the brigade's bulldozers cleared a base camp through enemy fire, and by August supplies were flowing into a well-defended perimeter. Company-sized combat patrols against Viet Cong forces began on July 22nd, and battalion-sized sweeps were underway by early September. That month saw 1/18 rejoin the rest of the 2d Brigade, and by October the remaining two brigades of the First Division had arrived in South Vietnam. The Division was spread out across five bases: besides the 2d Brigade at Bien Hoa, the 1st Brigade was at Phuoc Vinh and the 3d Brigade at Lai Khe. Division Artillery was based at Phu Loi, and Division Headquarters / Support Command were at Di An.

This was consistent with the Division's mission. During the summer months the 2d Brigade's objective was "to protect essential airfields and other installations and to act, in the last resort, as a reaction force to obstruct an enemy takeover."¹ As more Division personnel and weaponry arrived, the focus switched to clearing out enemy supplies and eventually to search and destroy missions. The first major engagement was the Battle of Ap Bau Bang on November 12, where 2d Battalion, 2d Infantry (one of the new arrivals with 3d Brigade) successfully fought off a Viet Cong attack and inflicted around 200 casualties. By the end of 1965 more than 9,600 members of the Big Red One were in Vietnam, ready to write the next chapters in the Division's history.²

1/26 Infantry was a later arrival with the 1st Brigade, but they made themselves at home by October - and their soldiers, like Staton Strother, soon came to appreciate the weariness of a two-week patrol. MRC 1999.134

BRO SUPPORT FUND

The Bro Support Fund

The Big Red One Support Fund is the Society's own fund that provides assistance to serving 1st Infantry Division Soldiers and their families in non-emergency situations—our 1st Infantry Division Foundation's McCormick Grants program handles the emergencies. As the Global War on Terror has progressed, the number of needs and assistance programs have multiplied dramatically, yet there are often needs that fall between the cracks. These situations are the reason the BRO Support Fund exists.

If you would like to donate to the BRO Support Fund, please use the coupon on the left or the membership renewal application on page 10 to do so. With your generosity, help and support, the Big Red One continues to take care of its own!
